Revolution Expands Focus on Sustainable Products through Pak-Sher Acquisition

Little Rock, AR – Revolution, a leading provider for closed loop plastic solutions, has acquired Pak-Sher, Inc. to expand its focus on sustainable packaging. Pak-Sher will be incorporated into Revolution’s Command brand to expand the company’s footprint and capabilities.

Pak-Sher has been an innovator in the design and manufacture of foodservice carryout and kitchen prep packaging since the early 1970s. Their sustainable product offering also includes the only deli/bakery sheet on the market manufactured with 50% post-consumer recycled plastic that meets FDA requirements for direct food contact.

For over 30 years, Command’s focus has been committed to producing environmentally friendly solutions for the retail, food service and grocery markets without compromising quality and innovation. Lauren Grande, Vice President of Command sales noted “Pak-Sher is a great fit to the Command brand. The synergies between the two companies will only increase our ability to provide our customers the best in quality and service.”

Sean Whiteley, CEO of Revolution, added, “We are thrilled about the ability to service our customers through an expanded product offering and increased production capabilities. Having locations in both Texas and California will further support our customers’ needs across the country. As we continue our focus on providing sustainable product solutions to our customers, we will be using as much post-consumer resin as possible in all our product lines out of both locations.”
